Skinny Skribbles

Around And About Town

With C. F. SKIRVIN

The DeMolay boys had charge of the municipal functions of city government yesterday, and a few of them invaded the sanctum sanctorum of this office. Richard Preston picked out the editorial chair, Lloyd C. Barnes liked the ether the best, and moved in with Tom Danson, radio operator; Brent Wahlberg liked the ozone so took up a reporter's position, and so did Jack Sullivan. Largely the positions were observational, and the boys "watched" operations. Good information. Same true of all other "spots" where the DeMolays were installed. They got to see how various departments of city government and businesses are operated.

I'm glad Bill Cook has gone to Oregon. That makes more room in California for me.

Rodney Bacon, in the Good Samaritan hospital, Los Angeles, recovering from an appendectomy, not so peppy Saturday and Sunday. Monday wash day and maybe he feels better now. Rodney not so rugged as some of the boys who go in with and emerge without, but he's a good fighter and that helps.

Fem friend says, "Got a cold?" "Yep," says I. "Take soda," says she. "Anything with it," says I. Doggone these colds, anyway.

The Citrograph contains a paragraph about the value of cover crops, which it took a flood to accentuate, and concludes that it is a pretty fair assumption that cover crops will not be turned under in future years as early as they have been in the past.

At 11:30 a. m. Photographer Leonard in front of the office. When I say, "what ye doin'?" he says "taking a picture of the man in the moon." "Gosh," says I, "is that fellow up there yet?" By the way, he has a swell position for watching petting parties.

And if any one wants me to take a vacation all he has to do is to write this column and give me enough money to raise a disturbance. I'm not looking for any of that quiet stuff. I'm so used to monotony, that I want to diverge.

Just about this time Charley Martin comes in and creates a riot. He wants to know who has changed for five dollars, and believe it or not he shows the currency. It was the best joke of the season.

And then the phone jingles to tell me that the National Orange Show is on at San Bernardino and "they" going. I knew all the time the show was operating but the other part of the phone conversation was new information.

Fred Barmore has a remedy for a cold. Says take cream of tartar when you go to bed. Suppose you don't go to bed, what good would his remedy be?

Orange and Santa Ana have been shaking hands with each other over escape from serious flood damage, but sympathizing with the afflicted sections, and putting their money into Red Cross relief.

DEFEAT FOR INVADERS IS FORECAST

China Communist Head Tells of Victories

WITH THE CHINESE RED ARMY IN HOPEI PROVINCE, North China, (AP) — China's red army commander, Yu Cheng-Tsao, believes the Japanese army is nearer defeat than at any time since the Oriental war began a little more than eight months ago (July 7).

Guerrilla marches, the red army general said at his headquarters here in Central Hopei far behind Japanese lines, have isolated large forces of Japanese battling toward the Yellow river on the Central China front.

Their communications cut, transport trains wiped out, many of their small railway station garrisons annihilated, and their only food supply in some cases reaching them by airplane, many Japanese troops are in a precarious position, Yu said.

ARMY ISOLATED

Among highlights of the situation of the Japanese, as pictured by Yu, were these:

An army of 40,000 Japanese in Southern Shensi has been isolated from its supply bases.

Red guerrillas scored five successes in recent days in attacks along the Peiping-Hankow railway, wiping out small station garrisons.

Chinese tactics forced the Japanese to abandon 35 miles of the Peiping-Hankow railway north of the Yellow river.

Three transport columns wending their way through tortuous mountain trails to reach the Japanese headquarters in Southern Shensi were annihilated by Chinese snipers; and for six days the Japanese command resorted to airplanes to feed the isolated army.

CHANG THREATENS

Thirty thousand red Chinese soldiers lay across the communication line between the Japanese and the Yellow river.

Roosevelt Calls Upon Nation To Fete Jefferson

WASHINGTON, (AP) — President Roosevelt by proclamation today called upon the nation to observe April 15, in this and each succeeding year, as the birthday of Thomas Jefferson, author of the Declaration of Independence and third president of the United States.

The proclamation, issued in pursuance of a congressional act, urged government officials and the people generally to display flags and to observe the day in schools, churches and other suitable places with appropriate ceremonies.

GREW PRESENTS PANAY DEMAND

TOKYO, (AP) — Ambassador Joseph Grew today delivered the United States' demand for indemnification for the sinking of the gunboat Panay. The amount of indemnity asked was not announced.

Japan previously promised indemnification and other demands as a result of the sinking of the Panay of the Yangtze river patrol in which four foreigners last their lives Dec. 12.)

League of Nations Gets German Stand

GENEVA, (AP) — Joseph Avenol, secretary general of the league of nations, sent a note to Berlin today acknowledging Germany's communication to the effect that annexation of Austria ended its league membership.

League officials said Avenol's note made no mention of the customary two-year notice, which a member must give before resignation becomes effective. It was feared such mention might be considered recognition of the Austrian annexation.

FDR to Leave For Warm Springs

WASHINGTON, (AP) — President Roosevelt will leave by special train tonight for a 10-day visit to Warm Springs, Va.

On the way he will stop at Gainesville, Ga. tomorrow morning for a brief address at the dedication of Roosevelt square.

Simese Twins Finally Agree on Union Tieup

Violet and Daisy Hilton (above) who have been joined together all their lives could not agree on joining the American Federation of Labor until they listened to arguments by a union leader in San Francisco where they are appearing in a night club. Daisy argued, then Violet argued, then they agreed. Each then joined the AFL.

FLOOD TAKES 20TH VICTIM

The flood indirectly took its 20th Orange county victim last night when William Ernest Richards, 62, 216 West Tenth street, Buena Park, died as the result of burns received while he was a refugee in his own garage March 3.

Seated on a table in the flooded garage, Mr. Richards lit a cigarette early in the morning of the flood, and the lighted match he threw down ignited gas which was bubbling through the water from an open jet near the floor.

The gas leakage, according to Deputy Coroner Bert Castele, who investigated, apparently was caused when rising water put out the fire under a water heater in the garage, and the gas jet was left open during the confusion.

Mr. Richards was living with his son, Ernest L. Richards.

PIER SUIT NEARING END

Seal Beach's fight for condemnation of the rickety Main street pier may be settled out of court, it was indicated today.

Superior Judge G. K. Seovel granted continuance of the legal fight until 2 p. m., as the city prepared to ask consent of the Security-First National bank, one of the owners, to an assignment of its interest in the pier to the city.

The other owner, Eayside Land company, already has consented.

Consideration for the assignment was not revealed. The city filed suit for condemnation of the pier so it may erect a new $100,000 structure on the site.

Spanish Rebel Drive Continues

HENDAYE, France, (AP) — Spanish insurgents today reported they had driven government troops from five barricaded trench lines at Valdealgordo in fierce hand to hand conflicts.

Resuming their drive toward Catalonia and the Mediterranean coast, the insurgents launched a smashing attack in the sector 10 miles southeast of Alcaniz and about 35 miles from the sea.

Government troops suffered 2000 casualties in a futile effort to stop the offensive.

The attack was made by insurgent legionnaires after artillery and airplane bombardment of the new defense lines hastily constructed by the government in an attempt to halt the insurgent drive eastward.

Newport - Balboa Enters Fight Against Outfall Sewer

Another Orange county coast city entered the fight against present methods of sewage disposal yesterday when the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce adopted a resolution urging reform of the outfall sewer system.

Through installation either of individual or a master complete treatment plant.

Citing a menace to health posed by the present outfall sewer disposal system and urging immediate repair of the outfall line, damaged in the recent flood, the directors said that repair to the line alone is not sufficient to protect the coastal area.

California Needs Woman Touch Says Candidate for L. G.

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP) — A woman's touch in California state affairs was offered today by Miss Genevieve L. A. Shaffer.

She wants to be elected lieutenant governor, the job George J. Hatfield will step out of after his campaign for governor of California.

Miss Shaffer, a San Francisco real estate woman and civic worker, promised "a sound, businesslike, capable, non-political" program which would bring "a fresh perspective with a woman's viewpoint" into the state's political life. She announced she would seek the Republican, Democratic and Progressive party nominations.

HOWARD CASE POSTPONED

Police Chief Floyd W. Howard's trial, scheduled to open today in Los Angeles, was postponed until April 2, owing to a crowded court calendar.

Howard is under a federal grand jury indictment charging him with conspiring to smuggle lottery tickets into the United States from Mexico. His case will be brought before Senior Federal District Judge William P. James.

Howard and a group of others, including Ernest Winbiger, Santa Ana undertaker, and his brother-in-law, and C. W. Hutchings, Balboa game operator, were indicted early this year.

'Girl in Paradise' To Wed Hearst, 22

NEW YORK, (AP) — "The most beautiful girl in paradise" will be wed tomorrow.

Former show girl Hope Chandler, 17, will marry David Hearst, 22, son of William Randolph Hearst, the publisher, her mother, Mrs. Samuel Coley, announced.

Miss Chandler was front covered by Life magazine last December as the prettiest girl in the Paradise night club.

Hearst is employed in the advertising department of his father's Baltimore paper, the Baltimore American. The couple will honeymoon abroad.

FRESNO SETS DAMAGE

FRESNO, (AP) — Flood damage to county roads and bridges in Fresno county amounted to $130,025, the board of supervisors reported today.

BRIDGE PLEA TURNED DOWN

Demands that Santa Ana boulevard bridge be rebuilt as a concrete structure and not with piles were handed the city council last night by more than a score of petitioners.

Protests against the type of construction used prior to this month's flood, which wrecked the structure, were aired at length by spokesmen for the petitioners, but met with a virtual decision by the council to delay rebuilding of the bridge until the county's flood control program is nearly completed.

City Engineer J. L. McBride explained that temporary repairs could put the span into service until such time as the permanent type is definitely ascertained.

City workmen under McBride already are repairing the sagging superstructure of the span.

TWO ARRESTED IN BURGLARIES

Four service station burglaries, two of them not even reported, were solved yesterday with the arrest two youths near Anaheim.

Herbert Abbott, 20, and a 17-year-old accomplice admitted burglarizing Wilburn Wimberly's station, 101 highway and Ball Road, the Peters station on 101 highway near Katella road, and the Blue and Gold station at Orange and Spadra avenues on two occasions. Arresting Officers G. F. McKelvey and James Workman reported.

Loot in each case included gum, candy, cigarettes and some small change. Total value was $75.

LIECHTENSTEIN MAY GO NAZI

VADUZ, Liechtenstein, (AP) — Another Anschluss for Germany may be accomplished if Nazis, who apparently are increasing in this tiny principality, get the upper hand.

A number of Nazi leaders were reported to have left Liechtenstein today to consult authorities of Adolf Hitler's realm about possibilities of closer ties between the principality and Germany.

It was officially reiterated, however, that "the Liechtenstein government is determined to preserve the independence of the county."

Probe Ends With "Restitution" Says L. A. Official

BULLETIN

Announcement that "charges against Dan Mulherron, former head of the WPA here, will be dropped because he is making restitution" was made by Major Dillon of the Los Angeles office of the WPA today. It was reported that the charges had to do with "misuse of WPA equipment and goods on city projects in San Clemente."

Following a flurry of telegrams to Washington, D. C., numerous telephone conversations to Los Angeles and general rumblings of discontent during the past five weeks, Orange county Democratic leaders re-composed themselves today and sat back to enjoy the army's management of the WPA here. The army by necessity was forced to cut administrative costs and remove non-relief workers in a move "to get more dollars into the pockets of the unemployed," one political chieftain told 100 members of the Democratic Assembly of Democrats meeting last night in Orange.

Nothing was mentioned about Orange county's politically appointed, non-security supervisors who are without jobs today. The Los Angeles office says it was these workers who caused much of the confusion leading up to the meeting of Democratic leaders and army officials in Santa Ana on Saturday.

HOG 'TRUST' FOUGHT BY SUPERVISORS

Talbert Ranch Asks Monopoly, Is Claim

Attempts by the L. and N. Feeding company to grab a "monopoly" of the hog ranch and garbage business in Southern California were fought vigorously today by county supervisors.

The corporation operator of a large hog ranch at Talbert, which has been a thorn in the board's flesh for more than a year, has applied to the state railroad commission for a certificate of public convenience and necessity, it was learned.

Granting of the application, supervisors were told, would exempt the ranch from local control and (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

PATRICIA RYAN 'NOT GUILTY'

NEW YORK, (AP) — They half carried hysterical Patricia Ryan into a Bronx county courtroom early today to hear the verdict in her trial for the slaying of her patrolman husband, Michael.

A few moments later the black clad 21-year-old widow walked unassisted out of a rear entrance of the courthouse, free for the first time in nearly five months to return to her children, Mickey, 2½, and Patricia, 18 months old.

Nine men and three women jurors deliberated four hours before acquitting the slim, attractive defendant, who pleaded she had been made temporarily insane by her husband's brutal unnatural death when she shot him to death with his own service revolver in their bedroom last Oct. 31.

The affair will be strictly informal and will begin at 9 p. m. it was announced today.

Assistance League hostesses will be Mrs. A. G. Flagg, Mrs. John McKittrick, Mrs. Franklin West, Mrs. Howard Rapp, Mrs. M. B. Wellington, Mrs. C. H. Holles and Mrs. James Irvine.

SEEK TO END HARBOR STRIKE

SAN PEDRO, (AP) — New pressure was exerted today to free Los Angeles harbor from the paralysis of a nine-day dispute over cargo operations.

Another meeting was scheduled this morning with Captain Edward H. Fitzgerald, federal labor conciliator, by union longshoremen and directors of the Waterfront Employers association.

Suicide Threatens To 'Haunt' Violator

GLENDALE, (AP) — A threat to "haunt" anyone who would spend money for his burial was left today in a note which Police Lieut. Charles Blake said was written by Edward Hodges, 21, before he committed suicide.

"Do not spend any money on my burial," read the note to his mother, Mrs. Rose Ella Jon. "I shall haunt anyone who does, as the county has a means good enough for me."

Vandenberg Feted On Birthday, 54

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Sen. Arthur Vandenberg (R., Mich.), celebrating his fifty-fourth birthday anniversary today, said he was receiving "the one gift" he wanted. His daughter, Betty, an accomplished pianist, will appear at a musicale which Mrs. Vandenberg is giving in her husband's honor tonight.

The Huntington Beach chamber previously had protested strongly against the present method of dumping sewage into the ocean at a point between Newport and Huntington Beach, directors demanding that the state board of health, the county health department and county supervisors take action to curb the reported menace to the beach areas.

PRADO DAM BUILDING MAY START IN '38

Plans Made to Get Project Under Way

Construction on the giant Prado dam in Santa Ana canyon may begin this year.

Instead of $1,500,000 recommended as an appropriation for starting the project, congress may allocate $3,000,000 for the work this year, county supervisors learned today.

Maj. Theodore Wyman, jr., army engineer in charge of this district and of the county's $15,000,000 flood control project, told the board in a letter that he had recommended doubling the appropriation after this month's disastrous floods. The war department had recommended allocation of $1,500,000.

GRIEF BLAMED FOR SUICIDE

Melancholy since the death of his wife three years ago, Silas M. Weymouth, 78, 135 Twelfth street, Seal Beach, last night apparently fired a .38 caliber rifle shot into his head and died instantly.

His body was found by E. P. Nash, a neighbor, who had made a daily habit of dropping in to see how Mr. Weymouth was getting along. He told Coroner Earl Abbey the elderly widower had mentioned suicide to him once or twice.

The body was taken to Simpson and Blday funeral home in Long Beach. Abbey said there would be no inquest.

Income Tax Nets $683,689,563

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The treasury today said income tax collections in the first 21 days of March totaled $683,689,563, an increase of 51 per cent over the comparable period last year.

These figures, officials said, represented actual deposits of internal revenue collectors. Previously, the treasury reported that deposits and estimated receipts in the first 15 days were 18 per cent ahead of last year.

Wins Libel Suit

A London court has awarded Shirley Temple (above) $10,000 in settlement for a libelous article that appeared in London publication. Lord Chief Justice Hewart termed the article "gross calumny." Shirley, as everyone knows, is a starlet in Hollywood.

ALL FOREIGN BUSINESS SAFE IN MEXICO, CARDENAS CLAIMS

Oil Companies Only Ones Hit By Decree; Government to Pay for All Damages

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Four American oil companies filed a brief with Secretary Hull today, claiming a "manifest denial of justice" in Mexico and asking the support of the United States government.

MEXICO CITY, (AP)—President Lazaro Cardenas assured Mexican industry today that expropriation of foreign oil companies was "exceptional" and no similar measure was in prospect against other business.

As the treasury department took the first steps toward fixing the sum to be paid the 17 British and American oil companies for loss of their $400,000,000 properties, President Cardenas gave his assurances to industry in general in a statement that:

"No other measures which might affect the confidence of the country will be taken against other business, properties, bank deposits, values and other investments, which the government is ready to protect in accordance with the law."

ERASES FEARS

He said he spoke now to erase fears "which without foundation might be created, or have been created, as a result of rumors spread by parties interested in seeing that the measure which the government was compelled to take in regard to the oil properties, be misinterpreted and distorted."

The president said his government would take necessary steps to protect and encourage investments and business enterprises which might aid the economic development of the country and bring benefits of social character.

Secretary of the Treasury Eduardo Suarez invited representatives of the 17 expropriated oil companies to confer with him on the terms of payment.

Labor is planning a great parade here Wednesday to demonstrate its support of the government for taking over the oil industry.

Meanwhile, there developed the prospect of financial changes, an aftermath to the oil reorganization.

Foreign exchange dealings were suspended by the Central Bank of Mexico last week, and other banks have followed suit.

PESO RATES

There now are reports among bankers that the government is expected to establish two rates for the peso-dollar exchange, one for purchase of needed materials for industry, the other for purchase of luxuries and "unnecessary" transfers of money abroad.

The "industrial peso" rate probably would be around 3.60 pesos to the dollar, that for luxuries considerably higher—to discourage any great flight of national currency.

U. S. OIL WORKERS LEAVE MEXICO

LAREDO, Tex. (AP)—Oil operators, accompanied by their families, passed through Laredo today as a result of the expropriation of American and British oil properties by the Mexican government.

Thirty families crossed the border. Some remained here temporarily to await developments, while others moved onward.

Word was received here from Monterey that city would join other Mexican cities tomorrow in closing business houses from 8 a. m. to 2 p. m. as "a mark of appreciation" towards the action of President Lazaro Cardenas on the matter. All federal, state and city branches will observe the six-hour celebration.

JAP DEFEAT NEAR—CLAIM

tion lines of this army eastward from the Peiping-Hankow railroad, he said, while troops of General Chiang Kai-Shek cut another railway in Shansi, leaving the Japanese completely isolated.

Meanwhile, General Chiang's armies crossed the Yellow river northward in four places, according to Yu's reports.

Three victories in two days in Southern Shansi below Yaiyuan resulted in 1700 Japanese dead, while the Chinese lost but 200, Yu said.

The position of the Japanese in Shansi was made worse by the vigorous battle going on in Shanung province, at the east end of the Yellow river front, since Japanese commanders were unable to spare reinforcements for their threatened right wing.

FIERCE BATTLE RAGES IN SUCHOW AREA
SHANGHAI, (AP)—Fighting raged today across a bloody canal, as Chinese and Japanese, their lines but 50 yards apart in some places, battled for possession of Suchow, vital junction point of the Lunghai and Tienstin-Pukow railways.

Gunfire was audible in Suchow, 22 miles from the battlefield as Japanese ranged their heavy artillery along the north shore of the canal and opened bombardment of the Chinese lines.

Neblett Keeps Right on Suing
LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Atty. William H. Anderson, former head of the Los Angeles Bar association, today was named as new defendant in William H. Neblett's $2,000,000 libel suit.

Stanley Anderson, Beverly Hills hotel owner, was named an additional defendant yesterday. The two Andersons are not related.

Both were substituted for "John Does," named in the original complaint.

Attorney Anderson has been associated in civic matters with John B. Elliott, also a defendant. Stanley Anderson today was interested in the senatorial campaign of Pierson M. Hall, former U. S. district attorney, who likewise is a defendant.

DRUNK CHARGE
Grant Purdy, 24, San Diego, was arrested by Laguna police yesterday on a drunk driving charge.

New Bill Hits False Ads

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Roosevelt signed today legislation giving the federal trade commission jurisdiction over the control of false advertising of food, drugs, cosmetics and devices.

The measure also increases the commission's power by permitting it to intervene to protect the consumer against unfair and deceptive acts in commerce.

The new law defines false advertising as any which is misleading in any material respect, either by statements, or suggestions, that a product will accomplish certain things, or through failure to disclose any material fact bearing on the claims made for a product.

ers as possible, and retain only the best of the nation through the SRA, a number of politically named supervisors were unable to secure case numbers. They were dropped from the WPA rolls, and neither they nor their political friends liked the idea.

The assembly was informed that Stevens is coming to Santa Ana with the power to reinstate dismissed workers. Not a word was breathed as to what Stevens may do about the politically named non-relief supervisors.

WPA "TEAPOT"
George Tobias termed the Democratic-WPA-Army contest as "the WPA teapot dome blow up," prior to reading telegrams sent by Congressmen Sheppard urging a clean-up.

Herb Legg, Democratic candidate for governor, was the principal speaker, after party leaders finished talking about the "blow-up" and its "satisfactory" outcome.

Legg bitterly attacked Governor Frank Merriam and his aides as big wasteful of public funds. He alleged Merriam has been responsible for an inefficient state relief set-up of 8000 persons, who were unable to assist Los Angeles county during the flood because of political red tape.

The county chairman, stressed the importance of having a man and a woman worker in each precinct. Chairman Horace Head made known a list of precinct workers headed by Mrs. Claudia Worswick of Santa Ana, W. G. Henning, Judge C. D. Patton of Huntington Beach; Orin W. Sisson of Orange, and Stephen F. Gallagher of Anaheim.

Mrs. Frank Harwood told about Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt's visit in Long Beach. Others who spoke were: Mrs. Mae Geeting, B. Z. McKinney and Mrs. Claudia Worswick.

PRADO DAM WORK PUSHED

for Wynman said, since plans and specifications are almost completed. He urged haste on the part of supervisors in getting rights-of-way for the construction.

The board already has moved to sell $1,500,000 of its $2,500,000 bond issue to provide land on which the engineers may work and to relocate the Santa Fe railroad and Santa Ana canyon highway.

When completed, the Prado dam will be the main link in the county's flood control program, and will block water coming down the Santa Ana river from Riverside and San Bernardino counties, which caused millions of dollars in damage here this month.

BRAZIL HITS GERMAN PLAN

RIO DE JANEIRO, (AP)—Efforts by the German government to regain free Nazi cultural activity for Germans in Brazil ran into a blind alley today.

It was ascertained at the foreign office that Foreign Minister Oswaldo Aranha has rejected flatly the latest series of representations against Brazil's ban on Nazi activities.

Carl Ritter, the German ambassador, acted for his government. It was said reliably that the foreign minister considered a note submitted by Ritter to be couched in such strong language that he rejected it without further consideration.

RED CROSS AID NOW $29,158.08

Orange county's Red Cross relief funds rose today by $6540 as this area received its share of a $20,000 donation presented to Southern California chapters by leading California oil companies. This brings the total for this area to $29,158.08.

Contributions to the four county chapters, including the $6500 oil company donations, stood as follows today: Orange, $4,041.16; Anaheim, $4,487.00; North Orange county, $5,179.54; Santa Ana, $15,450.38.

PURSE STOLEN
Mrs. Jennie Carps, 14 Cypress street, reported the loss of $20 in cash and other articles when her purse was stolen while she was shopping in a downtown department store Saturday afternoon. She told police she had laid the purse down while she tried on some dresses, and that it was missing when she returned to get it.

HAWAII WAITS 'ATTACK' BY 'BLUE FLEET'

HONOLULU, (AP)—Honolulu's civilians worked and played as usual today but over 22,000 soldiers and sailors awaited with wartime anxiety the appearance of an enemy fleet.

Under simulated conditions that included even firearms on army post school buses, the service arms prepared to defend the staunchly fortified island of Oahu or other more vulnerable land from an enemy "blue" fleet, representing a government whose relations with the United States were "strained" last week.

The attacking force actually is a part of the United States fleet which left California last week on the most extensive and most secret Pacific maneuvers yet undertaken.

HUGE NAVAL PLANES
Already huge naval planes—presumably from the "blue" fleet—have been reported a thousand miles from Honolulu. Sleek, grey destroyers patrol waters outside Pearl harbor, watching for the enemy. Navy and army observation planes are ready to take off instantly at the first alarm.

Twenty thousand troops are deployed about the island of Oahu, flanked with artillery and mobile equipment. They have been carrying out minor maneuvers since Thursday.

Submarine crews wait at their posts at the naval base.

The defense forces know only that the "blue" fleet was seen last off the coast of California "the past few weeks."

EXPECTED TOMORROW
The U. S. fleet is expected in Hawaiian waters tomorrow, or a little later. In addition to warships the invaders theoretically have merchant ships capable of transporting a large landing force.

If the enemy attacks Oahu, the army and navy will unite to defend this important bulwark of the American defense system. An attempt is made to take an outside island, the army will be the "enemy," officers explained.

The Hawaiian naval force includes 75 flying boats, a heavy submarine squadron and 1400 men of the Sixth Marine regiment, recently in Shanghai.

The army's 20,000 officers and men are equipped with light and heavy artillery, 140 planes, high speed tanks, and equipment to move the infantry quickly.

LOUDON TO RUN FOR CONGRESS

Lotus H. Loudon, publisher of the Anaheim Bulletin, told prominent Republican leaders in Riverside last night that he intends to seek the Republican nomination from the 19th congressional district to congress at the pre-primary convention in Riverside, April 23.

Loudon made the announcement while speaking before the Committee of Nine. Other candidates already reported in the field include Roy J. Webb, Riverside Townsend leader; Mayor C. T. Johnson of San Bernardino; Frank Mack, San Bernardino drugist; and A. H. Isham, San Bernardino business man.

Howard Irwin of Fullerton was named to succeed Loudon as a member of the committee of nine, after Loudon resigned his post upon announcing his candidacy. Irwin is an Orange County Republican Central committeeman.

Yachtsman's Wife To Seek Divorce

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Horace Boos, jr., young yachtsman, was named today in a separate maintenance suit of $500 monthly brought by his 19-year-old bride, Bessie M. Boos. The sum was asked by the wife for the support of herself and her one-year old daughter.

Suit for annulment of the marriage was filed last Thursday by young Boos' mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Dwyer Reid, on the charge that when the wedding ceremony was performed in 1936, neither party was of legal age and that parental consent was not obtained.

Bridges Ordered In Contempt Case

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Harry Bridges, Pacific coast CIO leader, must appear in Superior Judge Ruben Schmidt's court April 20 to defend himself against contempt of court charges.

Judge Schmidt yesterday issued a new citation charging that Bridges signed and caused to be filed an affidavit designed to influence him in rendering a decision in a case involving a CIO jurisdictional dispute with the A. F. of L. in San Pedro.

Draper Nominated For Reserve Board

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The nomination of Ernest G. Draper to be a member of the board of governors of the federal reserve system won approval today of the senate banking committee.

Draper, an assistant secretary of commerce, was born in the District of Columbia, but engaged in business in New York City.

BIKE RETURNED
Stolen yesterday morning from Fifth and Main streets, a bicycle belonging to Mike Reyes, 1826 West Second street, was brought back to the same spot several hours later. Reyes found it there at 3:20 p. m.

Whitney Sentence Postponed 2 Weeks

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The securities commission requested New York legal authorities today to postpone for two weeks sentence on Richard Whitney, bankrupt former New York stock exchange president.

Chairman William O. Douglas sent a message to Ambrose V. McCall, assistant attorney general of New York state, and Thomas E. Dewey, district attorney for New York county, asking postponement to give the commission time to complete its own investigation of the Whitney failure.

LEGION POST TO PLAY HOST

With state and national American Legion officials scheduled to discuss the organization's program and objectives, Santa Ana Legionnaires will play host to nearly 500 members of Orange county posts Friday night.

Joseph S. Long of Riverside, California department commander, will be speaker. John Quinn, past national commander, Los Angeles, and James K. Fisk, state adjutant, San Francisco, also will be on hand.

Arthur Ecklund, commander of the Santa Ana post, indicated the present national commander, Daniel J. Doherty, Boston, may attend. He is on the coast at present.

Special entertainment featuring songs by the Elks double quartet and the Legion auxiliary quartet, has been arranged.

SYMPHONY SET FOR CONCERT

Under the baton of Dr. Modest Altschuler, internationally-known Russian conductor, the Federal Music project will present a part-symphony program during its symphony concert at the high school auditorium Thursday evening.

The orchestra's personnel will be augmented by the Santa Ana symphony in order to give full resources to a reading of two symphonies—Kalinnikov's powerful "Symphony No. 1 in G-Minor," and "Overture to Oberon," by Weber.

Roxanna Byers, pianist, will include Babcock's "Polonaise," Tschakowsky's "Andante Cantabile," and Rubenstein's "Dance."

TWA Leader Faces Ouster

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Presidential removal or suspension of Arthur E. Morgan as chairman of the Tennessee Valley authority became a virtual certainty today, despite the veteran engineer's challenge of the legality of such action.

After Morgan refused yesterday to resign or retract charges of dishonesty against his co-directors, President Roosevelt gave him until 2:30 p. m. (eastern standard time) today to present "any reason" why he should not be ousted.

KIDNAPER GETS DOUBLE DEATH IN W. VIRGINIA

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va., (AP)—Arvil Adkins was gone today to the "glory" he envisioned as he dropped the second time through the gallows death trap in West Virginia's triple execution for kidnapping.

While guards adjusted straps on the 25-year-old Huntington man's arms and legs and a crowd of 74 men and one woman watched in the tiny witness room last night, something went wrong.

There was a report like a pistol shot and Adkins fell from behind the curtained platform through the trapdoor to the concrete 9½ feet below.

Guards quickly placed the dazed man on a stretcher and handed him back through the trap, blood trickling from a cut near his ear. Varden C. M. Stone said a spring had broken, causing the accident.

Seven minutes later, Adkins, supported by a guard, firmly told the spectators:

"I wish to see you all in Heaven some day. . . I'm going to glory."

There was another sharp report at 9:02½ p. m. and Adkins dropped simultaneously with a companion, John Travis, 25, to death. The two were followed 34 minutes later by Arnett A. Booth, 46, confessed leader of the crime which led to the hangings.

The three, all from Huntington, W. Va., were executed for kidnapping Dr. James I. Seder, 78-year-old dry leader, who was held captive in a mine for 11 days last November. Dr. Seder died as a result of pneumonia four days after he escaped.

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—An early appeal from Superior Judge Emmet H. Wilson's decision declaring the assembly interim committee on public morals legally dead, with no authority to function, will be made to the supreme court.

Judge Wilson's decision halted the committee in the midst of an investigation into gambling conditions in Los Angeles.

CHURCH MAKES PEACE WITH GERMAN HEAD

VIENNA, (AP)—Austrian Protestantism, unlike the church in Germany, has made its peace with the Nazi regime.

Dr. Kauer, president of the Austrian Evangelical Supreme church council, today became the first church official of any state to swear an oath of loyalty to Adolf Hitler, administered by Oswald Menghin, minister of education in the Vienna government.

He was followed by all his subordinate officials.

After the ceremony Dr. Kauer delivered an address which contrasted sharply with the attitude of the Rev. Martin Niemoller, now in a German concentration camp, and the Protestant movement in Germany. He said:

"Every German swears voluntarily in the fullest happiness an oath of loyalty to the beloved fuhrer, who liberated all Austrians, irrespective of their religious beliefs, from an unbearable yoke."

The Austrian Evangelical church has about 300,000 members. Sigmund Freud, 82-year-old "father of psychoanalysis," was seriously ill, close friends said, after a visit of secret Nazi police to his home last night.

The informants said the police took the Jewish scientist's passports and closed the doors of his home. Offices of the company which has published Freud's books also were closed.

RILEY PLANS 'CHANNEL LINE'

Supervisor Harry Riley wants to establish a "channel line" along Carbon creek and frown on people who build houses beyond it.

Although the county hasn't enough money to buy rights-of-way along the creek, which flooded sections of La Jolla, Atwood and North Anaheim this month, Riley told supervisors today he thought establishment of a line would be a good idea. Supervisor N. E. West suggested a "set-back" and board members were pondering legality of the whole thing this afternoon.

COUNTY URGED TO PLAN FOR REHABILITATION

Resolution Asks Enforcement of Law

Taking advantage of the flood's removal of Orange county's slum settlements, citizens in the northern part of the county met last night in Fullerton to make an effort toward rebuilding for the poor on safer and more sanitary lines. The group adopted a resolution asking for the enforcement of all county ordinances relative to proper reconstruction. The county planning commission was urged to study the problem of adequate housing among persons in the lower income group for the purpose of later enacting legislation.

The American Red Cross was praised for its part in rehabilitation work. Frank Rospaugh, Placentia newspaper publisher, and Graham C. Hunter, instituted these resolutions.

Motion to appoint a committee of nine persons to work out a program of safe and proper housing died for lack of a second. Purpose of the meeting, called by Mrs. H. H. Kohlenberger, was to discuss bettering the residential conditions of the Mexicans who lost their homes during the flood.

Persons who spoke included Harry E. Walsh, A. P. Patton, Harry D. Riley, W. T. Boyce, Walter Waselius, Howard Irwin, Mrs. E. E. Smith, Thomas Kuchel, Dr. K. H. Sutherland, Jack Prizer, Frank Bissett and Tom McFadden.

A million dollars from Uncle Sam's commodities pocket was handed today to California for rebuilding flood-damaged roads.

The bureau of public roads in Washington announced the allocation today, the Associated Press said, from emergency funds. The state will be required to match the federal contribution dollar for dollar and submit projects for the approval of bureau engineers.

Orange Ranchers Buy Paper; Read Of 'Sweeps' Win

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Gunther of Orange went to a funeral in Los Angeles yesterday. They saw their names listed as winners of a sweepstakes prize in the Grand National steeplechase which will be run Friday in Aintree, England.

Returning to Orange, they discovered almost everyone in town knew of their good fortune. The Gunthers are certain of receiving $230,775, prize awarded to those drawing lucky tickets on one of the entries in the big race. If their horse, Norman Glory, wins, they will receive $150,000. If he places second, they will receive $75,000 and $50,000 will be paid for third.

Mr. and Mrs. Gunther, who live on a ranch between Orange and Olive, haven't made any plans for disposing of their riches if they receive one of the big prizes. "We're still trying to get over the shock of the first award," Mrs. Gunther said this morning. "We'll worry about the rest later."

Truck Firms Hold Safety Meeting

Representatives of 15 trucking concerns and more than 50 truck drivers are expected to attend a safety meeting sponsored by the Truck Insurance exchange department in the Farmers Automobile Inter-Insurance exchange at 1622 North Main street tonight.

TEAGUE WARNS OF NEED FOR NEW MARKETS

Proration and other programs for artificially holding supply in line with demand are but stop-gaps, C. C. Teague, president of the California Fruit Growers Exchange, told delegates at the California Citrus institute yesterday in San Bernardino.

The problem, he explained, facing the citrus industry is the same as that facing all other successful lines of agricultural production—and that is continually increasing production.

The only permanent solution to the problem, he said, "is to increase demand and develop new markets."

The world crop reached 190,000,000 boxes, or over 4,000,000 carloads, last season, Teague said. The United States crop this year is estimated at 155,000 cars, which is almost 25,000 carloads, or 19 per cent above the past three-year average, and a new record production.

TESTIMONY IN POWER LINE SUIT ENDED

Three weeks of complicated testimony and arguments ended, Superior Judge H. G. Ames took under submission today the $36,800 suit of George C. Randall against the Southern California Edison company for fire damage to his 82-acre ranch.

Judge Ames had heard testimony since March 1 in the case, pending since 1936. Randall sued the power company, claiming it was responsible for breaking of a line and a resultant fire Oct. 3, 1935, in which he said orange trees, a house and garage were burned.

During the trial of the case Judge Ames, attorneys and court attaches adjourned court one morning and inspected the damaged property.

Randall got title to the property after a lengthy family squabble. The Edison company, in answering his suit, claimed Randall was negligent in not having installed firebreaks as required by a county ordinance.

RAMBLING AROUND ORANGE COUNTY

—with—
T. N. (BRICK) GAINES

Oh, dear! There's that man from Orange again. Police Chief George Franz.

My correspondent tells me George now is the proud owner of a spare leg. Wooden one, complete with joints.

As if there weren't enough joints in Orange already.

George came by the wooden leg honestly. Householders found the thing, and immediately called the cops, which seemed to be the right thing to do. After all, what would YOU do if you found a false limb on your front porch?

The handsome police chief now has the useless member installed in his office. I'm about to investigate rumors that he's going to use the new office accessory for kicking newspapers, men, which might not be a bad idea, seeing as Stan Wilson hangs around there quite a bit.

I've seen police chiefs who need a wooden leg in their business, but George isn't one of 'em.

Unless when he's chasing ducks and chickens.

Speaking of Orange, there's also Assemblyman Clyde Watson.

Assemblyman Clyde was in Sacramento for the special session. He brought back stories.

One of 'em, as related to me by a second party, concerns Frank F. Merriam, honorary member of the Newport Harbor Yacht club and also governor of this state.

Clyde said the state is going to build a $15,000 road to some geysers in one of our northern counties. The governor, the story goes, appeared before the assembly and made a 30-minute talk, urging passage of a bill allowing the fund for road construction.

The bill was approved by the legislators, and some doctors who wanted to establish a health resort there—said to be a purely private undertaking.

Now they've got their road, paid for by the state. Or that's the story, anyway.

Watson said the governor also spoke in favor of the Southern California flood relief fund.

In that speech he talked for two minutes by the clock!

Ho, hum.

Coast associations will meet tonight in Costa Mesa, where I know they'll be overfed, as I've suffered from a few of those meals myself. Gosh, can those girls cook!

They're going to talk about sewers, about which there seems to be a legitimate beef, and about a maybe junior college.

An outfall sewer dumping into the ocean isn't a very good advertisement for any stretch of coast, and I don't blame Bill Gallienne at Huntington Beach and many of his brethren for screaming about the situation. Bill always takes the bull by the horns, but he hasn't yet got a bellow out of this yet.

He did considerable ranting last week concerning duties of inland cities, etc., but nobody, as far as I've heard, answered him.

However, maybe some sort of report tonight will clear up the situation. I hope so.

'S funny, too, that no great opposition developed against the junior college business.

Here's a plan which would take students away from both Fullerton and Santa Ana. It'd be a big break for the coastal communities, which at one time wanted to tie in with Santa Ana in a huge educational plan. The county seat, however, was sorta offish about letting little places have much to say about administering Jaycee Or so I'm told.

Anyway, they're off to a good start for a big institution now. I'm thinking about the only thing holding 'em back is a site for the college, about which there'll probably be arguments, unless people start getting sensible. Should think some sort of agreement could be reached without too much trouble.

In fact, if it'd help any, I'll offer my huge (ahem) half-acreage at Costa Mesa if that'd help any!

Speaking of acreages and such things, Phillip the Phrog, monstrous refugee of the recent flood who washed up on the beach and later was taken in tow by my family, has disappeared.

(Phillip, who would cover nearly half a good-sized city lot, was just becoming a pet when he played hockey. Either that or some hungry neighbor played fish-hockey and caught him.)

If he met such a horrible fate, I hope the neighbor had indigestion.

Even if Phillip was only a frog, he had the soul of a gentleman. He never picked on the local amphibians, although he was from four to eight times as big as the largest local product. Phil didn't even compete with 'em in croaking, much. But when he did all the children would run for cover, the dog would howl and local ladies would scream for their husbands, thinking a lion was loose in the vicinity.

If someone did eat Phil, I'll bet he was like the Thanksgiving turkey—hash'n soup and things for a week after the first dinner.

TOWNSEND NEWS, VIEWS

By WALTER E. ROBB

Seventy-three years ago today the writer's mother was born. On March 22, 1825, she made her advent into the family life of a Dunkard minister and his wife, who then were residents of Virginia. She became known as Martha Ann Virginia Everly, and grew to young girlhood in the state of her birth. With her parents, she emigrated to Nebraska in 1872, where they homesteaded on the rolling prairies of Franklin county. On Oct. 1, 1882, William Burkitt Franklin Robb, another homesteader's son, claimed her for his bride, and there they established the home, and in the years that followed she became the mother of 11 children, of whom the writer is the eldest.

Life on Nebraska prairies during those days included hardship, and much of it. Especially was such true when a large family had to be reared. Water for domestic purposes didn't flow from faucets—it had to be drawn from wells which tapped underground streams from 75 to 100 feet beneath the surface, or else was hauled on a horse-drawn sled from a farmer who was fortunate enough to own such a well. Electrical currents didn't run in wires overhead to give energy to washing machines—far from it—a washbasin and a washboard constituted the machine aid possible to pioneer mothers—and when the family number was large it meant almost slavery for the mother. And other tasks of the household were performed under similar difficulties.

The writer being the eldest of 11 children had ample opportunity for observing the sacrifices his mother made during the years of her raising of a family. He knows of the love she showered on those children, and of the countless toil which she put forth for their comfort and good. By example as well as by precept she pointed the way to worthy living. What successes it has been the privilege of her children to enjoy have their foundation in the training which she gave. Three of the children and her husband have preceded her, but the remaining eight children today "rise up and call her blessed." I am sure my readers will be glad to hear of her.

GARDEN GROVE.—Mrs. Carl Ayres of Bishop visited her two sisters-in-law, Mrs. Iris Barrass and Mrs. Herman Christensen, over the week-end.

BUD MARSHALL FUND PROGRAM

COSTA MESA.—More than 200 persons witnessed the flood benefit performance presented Friday night by the Costa Mesa Townsend players, which was held in the main school auditorium under the direction of Mrs. Beulah Ferguson.

The Townsend Hillbillies, string quartet composed of Jasper Waggar, Frank Philis, Magnus and Myron Tait and accompanied by Mrs. Karl Burdick, pianist, opened the program with old-time numbers. The cowboy singers, "Don and Bud," gave renditions of "Gold Mine in the Sky" and "Git Along Little Dogies," accompanying themselves on the guitar and harmonica.

An Italian character impersonation was given by Miss Louise Beaumont, who also played with Mrs. Beulah Ferguson in "The Widow Rafferty."

Miss Vera Getty of Santa Ana presented a group of her advanced pupils in a dancing and singing act. The Barbershop quartet composed of Henry Abrams, Franz Yorker, William Crow and Halstead McCormack, all members of the Costa Mesa school faculty, presented a medley of quartet numbers, and "Kentucky Babe."

"The Rub and the Lady," one-act comedy was given by Harry Griffith and Mrs. H. F. Robertson. Stuart Price, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. George Sherry on the piano and violin, sang "If Winter Comes" and "Sailor Boy." Mrs. Ruth Erbe, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Briggs, piano and flute ensemble, sang two soprano solos.

A humorous monolog and baritone solo, "Green Eyed Dragon," was given by Leslie Steffensen.

The entertainment was concluded with a finale of the cast singing "Wild Irish Rose."

NEWPORT.—The sewing circle of the Newport Heights Ladies' Aid met Thursday in the home of Mrs. Carol Reynolds, 1902 Orange avenue. A pot-luck dinner was served for 18 guests, after which the afternoon was passed sewing for the April bazaar.

This plan, sponsored by many public spirited citizens, is for the purpose of joining all forces for civic improvement, and working toward a unified program of development. Those who are sponsoring it, chiefly, are President Gates of the Business Men's association, O. T. Stephens, a veteran in chamber of commerce work; C. H. Brower, superintendent of schools; John Sanks, city engineer, and president of the chamber of commerce, and many others. A committee working on this program, and to report back March 28 at the meeting at the Legion hall, includes Dr. E. N. Cooke, chairman, Mrs. Bertha Hilbert, president, Mrs. Stephens, Mr. Sanks and C. J. Showler, and President Gates.

High score awards in 500 were taken by Mrs. R. Williams of Anaheim and Caleb Lewis and second high by Mrs. Florence Price of Midway City and J. Fitzpatrick of Anaheim. Mrs. Williams received one of the galloping prizes and Mrs. Esther Colburn of Fullerton the other. Serving refreshments after the games were Mrs. Loretta Ferris and Helen and Kathryn Cies.

A grade crew owned by the Wasco Creamery, Kern county, produced 969.5 pounds of butterfat in 352 days in Class C.

LEMON PACKING PLANT OPENS

BREA.—A new lemon packing plant to handle the crop from the Times-Mirror and the Union Oil company groves in the vicinity of Brea has opened operations on the lemon crop. The work is being done at the old packing plant, operated in 1930-32 by Withers brothers, and located just north of the Brea-Clinda High school. The capacity of the plant, when complete, is to be several hundred cars a day.

The shipments will be over the Pacific Electric. A new platform is erected for this work.

The plant will handle the citrus from the 2100 acres of the two companies, all of which is managed by Herbert Bergen and his staff.

Orange Schools Closed for Day

ORANGE.—Elementary schools in Orange were dismissed today in order that teachers might visit schools of other cities and learn new methods.

Superintendent Carl I. Thomas announced that some of the teachers will visit towns in Orange county, while others will visit Los Angeles county. There are 40 teachers in the local elementary schools.

The visiting day, announced for early this month, was postponed due to flood conditions.

Shower Fetes Mesa Resident

COSTA MESA.—Mrs. Max Lynd was honored at a recent stork shower given in the home of her mother, Mrs. W. S. Neth, 1875 Orange avenue.

BOY SCOUTS MAY BE SOLICITED TO STOP RECKLESS DRIVING

I Just Found OutAbout
Cigaret
Money—By—
MILLARD
BROWNE

If Uncle Sam were to kick in half a million dollars for flood relief in Orange county, it literally would be just "cigaret money." Because the county's smokers contribute $500,000 a year to the federal government for indulging in the most universal U. S. luxury.

The lowly cigarette—more than a third of it deliberately wasted or laid aside to burn itself up, another third discarded as spent, less than a third actually smoked—makes a $1,000,000-a-year industry in Orange county, distributors reveal.

Taxes? Cigarets are infested with them—six cents worth for each pack, even the 10-cent ones. Considering that retailer buy dime cigarettes for nine cents, it leaves only three cents to pay the growers, manufacturers and distributors—and to pay for pictures of pretty girls on the magazine covers.

Ten-cent cigarettes are booming these days, too. Next to the "Big Three" in the 15-cent class, Orange county's best seller is in the dime bracket. Dealers now sell about three packs of 15-cent cigarettes to every pack of 10-centers.

Newest wrinkle in the cigarette business, vending machines now handle around 10 per cent of the county's volume. Four different types are on the market, the biggest one having room for nine brands piled 30-deep.

Big machines cost about $120, hold $25 worth of cigarettes. About 350 of them have been distributed around the county. C. A. Rockwell is the leading agent, spots his machines in stores and cafes on a percentage basis. He has to worry about maintenance; the storekeepers just supply space.

Cigarets now are all the same size (two and three-quarters inches long, rolled in paper one and three-sixteenths inches wide, since the government ruled out extra-sized ones. It's because taxes are based on 20 cigarettes, so there has to be some definition of just what comprises a cigarette.

Wholesalers (L. B. Harrison Co. and Smart & Final Co. are only ones in the county, though many local drug stores and a few groceries get cigarettes from outside sources) get their stock in cases of 50 cartons each, must take elaborate precautions to insure them.

That's because cigarettes are more negotiable than almost anything but money. One case is worth $75 retail, for instance, and $1000 worth could be stored in the average sedan. One dealer spends $100 a month to protect his stock against theft, fire, flood and other hazards.

The three big tobacco companies—American, Liggett & Myers and Reynolds—concentrate on their one advertised brand of cigarette, while the fourth, Brown & Williamson, has the most diversified line.

Only factory on the coast is Liggett & Myers in San Francisco, which plants a $70,000 check in front of the U. S. internal revenue collector every morning, has nearly $1,000,000 spent in taxes alone before it has time to collect a cent from its various distributors.

Cigaret customers, dealers estimate, buy an average of more than a pack a day. They don't all smoke that much, but a goodly number of three-pack-a-day men make up for quite a number of light smokers, and wives who "bum" cigarettes from husbands boost the average. Men lead women two-to-one in cigarette consumption.

Only way to dodge taxes and still smoke cigarettes (unless you're in the navy, which gets untaxed smokes at Panama). Roll your own. Comparatively few smokers do it, but those who do pay less than one cent in taxes for each five-cent package of roll-your-own tobacco.

Nebraska's Picnic
Slated Saturday

Nebraska takes its place in the parade of state picnics Saturday, when former residents of that state will gather at Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles.

President C. C. Patterson announced that a program of talks and entertainment has been arranged, with Judge Parker Wood, president of the Federation of State societies, as principal speaker. Hot coffee will be served and souvenir badges distributed.

HOPEFUL YOUTH
TAKE OVER
REINS OF CITY

Youth took over the governmental reins of Santa Ana yesterday and even jumped right into the newspaper offices and became editors, reporters and whatnots, and they proved very good ones, too.

It was the third annual Civic Day for DeMolay.

Some of the officials for the day were:

Ralph Pagenkopp, police commissioner; Glenn Cave, street commissioner; Dick Horton, fire commissioner; Phil Yould, water commissioner; Bob Luxemburger, police chief; Rex Blackburn, fire chief; Clyde Files, assistant police chief; Harris Dalbec, assistant fire chief; Don Anderson, building inspector; David Terhune, assistant building inspector; Clinton Roemer, detective lieutenant.

John Adams, auditor; Byron Bates, park superintendent; Ralph Beckman, desk sergeant; Marvin Webb, electrical inspector; Jim Elliott, plumbing inspector; Vic Allen, fire marshal; Frank Rossmore, Louis Johnston, John Thompson, Ernest Barrett, patrolmen; John Geddes, assistant street superintendent; Ledru Baker, city engineer; Glenn Townner, assistant city engineer; Bob Collier, Barney Robinson, fire captains; George Dawson, chief clerk, water department; Jim Dudley, water superintendent; Hugh Neighbour, city attorney; Alvin Dehne, city clerk; Jack Triplett, license inspector; Noble Sellers, assistant license inspector.

Lloyd Henk, health inspector; Buck Bemis, forestry board chairman; Aldon Allen, planning commission chairman; Jack Sullivan, library board chairman; Donald Krueger, superintendent of schools; Louis McCowan, treasurer; Kenneth Warren, detective sergeant; Henry Cornet, traffic sergeant; Jim Shook, captain of police; Creighton Hunter, high school principal; Hans Bergseter, junior high school principal; Howard Moore, editor of The Register; Richard Preston, editor of The Journal; Brent Wahlberg and Lloyd Barnes, newspaper reporters.

Zip!

The above legs belong to Dixie Dunbar of more or less movie fame. The zipper, as you may see, follows the neckline, thereby obviating, as much as is possible, the possibility of a "rum" whatever that is. Her press agent says the zipper hose match her sweater, skirts, dresses and a few other articles of wearing apparel too numerous to mention.

SEWER OUTLET
QUESTION UP

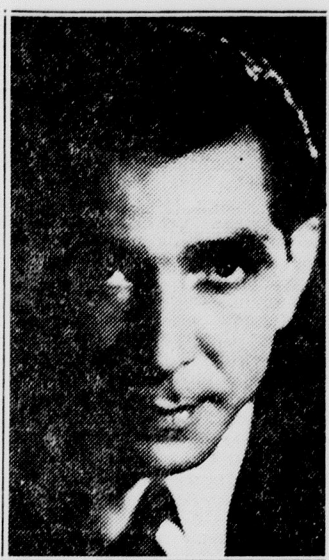

Various opinions existing between Huntington Beach and interior Orange county communities over alleged pollution of the coastline by the outfall sewer line will be ironed out at a meeting in Fullerton Friday. Chamber of commerce leaders and municipal officials from various parts of Orange county will be present.

The Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce will be represented by W. F. Croddy, E. B. Sharpley and J. B. Tucker, members of the city and county relations committee; President Fred Moriker and Secretary Howard Wood.

Scripps Institute
Gets Research Jobs

LA JOLLA.—Among the grants for research made recently by the Geological Society of America were two totalling $11,400 for work to be done here at the Scripps Institute of Oceanography. Dr. Francis P. Sheppard of the University of Illinois, who has been on leave at Scripps for several months, received a grant of $10,300 to be spent in investigation of the physiography, current dynamics, and sedimentation in selected areas of the sea floor off the California coast. The other grant of $1200 went to Roger Revelle, instructor in Oceanography at Scripps, and will be used to make a systematic study of sediments taken from the ocean floor.

Keyboard Poet

Homer Simmons (above), nationally renowned pianist and composer, will play in Santa Ana for the second time this year, Friday night, when he appears as guest soloist with the Cecilia Singers at the Santa Ana High school auditorium. The affair is a flood benefit.

Young American
Considered One Of Leading Pianists

Homer Simmons, poet of the piano, will play again for Santa Ana Friday night. He will appear here as guest artist with the Cecilia Singers, in a flood benefit performance in Santa Ana High school auditorium.

The young American, considered one of today's outstanding artists, was personally coached for several seasons by the great Paleyewski.

While still in his 20's, Simmons won considerable fame as a composer. He returned a year ago from a European concert tour, and has met with signal success in his concert and recital appearances in this country.

Tickets for Friday night's concert are on sale at the Santa Ana Bookstore. The singers will be directed by Halstead MacCormac.

Ringside Seats
Now Available For
Traffic Violators

Reckless drivers arrested by officers throughout Santa Ana are now receiving ringside admission tickets to the newly-formed traffic school which will start operating here one week from next Saturday, April 2.

Assured of the cooperation from city and county judges, Elmer Heidt, head of the Santa Ana traffic safety committee, said wayward auto drivers are being certified by judges to the class this week. In another several weeks it is estimated there will be enough people to start the class.

The course is to be taught by Lieutenant A. B. Hershey, appointed by the commission last week. There seems to be difference of opinion at present as to whether to place juvenile offenders with adult violators.

COUNTY FIGHTS
FOR ITS SHARE

Orange county citizens are preparing today to prevent Los Angeles county from devouring more than its share of Southern California's state and federal rehabilitation and flood prevention funds.

At a meeting called for Friday noon in Fullerton, municipal officials and prominent chamber of commerce leaders throughout the county plan to organize a coordinating committee which will act for Orange county as a whole in seeking state and federal help for this county.

SPECIAL SESSION
CALLED ONE BIG POLITICAL MEET

(Editor's Note: This is the third and last of the series of information articles on the special session of the legislature by a man who took part in it.)

By SEN. HARRY C. WESTOVER

When the legislature was called into extraordinary session, the program had been mapped out by the administration and the bills to be introduced were given to certain members for introduction. Although some thirty-odd topics were covered by the governor in his call, only one of the administrative bills was introduced in the senate, the rest being introduced in the assembly.

Assemblyman Tommy Kuchel, from Orange county, was given a "pat on the back" by the administration, when he was asked to introduce administrative bills concerning relief. With the exception of a few legislators close to the governor, none knew the extent or scope of the legislation to be introduced until it was actually on the floor of the Legislature.

BIG POLITICAL MEET

Although the session was called to take care of the business of the state, it developed into a big political meeting. With every member of the assembly and half of the members of the senate running for re-election and with numerous candidates for other public offices on hand, the session could not help but develop into a big political "get together."

Three or four of the assemblymen have announced their candidacy for lieutenant governor. In the senate, two men—Lieutenant Governor Hatfield and Senator Culbert Olson, are candidates for governor. Two of the senators have their hats already in the ring for lieutenant governor.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT

Strange as it may seem, the chief political topic is not the governor's race, but the race for lieutenant governor.

The contest developing between Governor Merriam and Lieutenant Governor Hatfield has great possibilities and certain special interests are already laying their money on Hatfield to take the nomination.

TROOPS WOULD TAKESNAPSHOTS
OF OFFENDERSSuch a Plan Being
Considered by Heidt

By GEORGE COVERDALE

Several hundred Boy Scouts throughout Orange county would snap photographic records of persons driving recklessly on the open highway and present the pictures to police authorities, under a plan tentatively considered by Elmer Heidt, head of the Santa Ana traffic safety commission.

Under the plan, the boys would take an active part in reducing accidents, not only in Santa Ana but in all parts of the county, in close cooperation with the law enforcement agencies.

BOYS WOULD COOPERATE

Scout Executive Harrison White, when asked about the proposition today, pointed out that there are between 150 and 200 boys in the county between 15 and 17 years of age who would cooperate with the commission, if they were called into service.

Heidt said yesterday afternoon that he will bring the matter before the safety group for their approval.

BOYS TO TAKE COURSE

White suggested the boys take a course in traffic safety and after passing tests required in the subject and proving through practical outlets they had a good grasp on the subject, that they be presented with a certificate of safety. White believes that the boys would not only be performing a service to their communities, but could gain first-hand knowledge on how to drive carefully.

Parking Survey
To Feel Business
Pulse, Under Way

The task to learning how many business men along forty blocks of Santa Ana's downtown shopping area would be willing to try out parking meters for a 90-day period was started this morning under the supervision of the retail division of the chamber of commerce.

J. K. Evans is in direct charge of the survey. He and his assistants will contact merchants between now and April 1. They want only a "yes" or "no" answer. Discussion is not necessary, according to chamber officials.

Upon completion of the canvass, the facts will be presented to the city council. A similar opinion of merchants in Long Beach, whose shops are located in district where parking meters have been in operation for months, will also be obtained.

Kiwanis To Hear
Of Cosmic Rays

A 1936 winner of the Nobel prize, Dr. Carl Anderson, associate professor of physics, California Institute of Technology, will discuss cosmic rays at tomorrow's Kiwanis club meeting in Masonic temple.

The Caltech scientist will be introduced by Vice-President Lyle B. Mitchell, chairman of the day.

Tucker To Attend
Highway Pageant

J. B. Tucker will head a Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce representation attending the Highway 101 celebration next Saturday at Oceanside and San Clemente.

Other chamber of commerce leaders, urged to be present at the affair by the directorate are: Rex Kennedy, John Price, Hugh Lowe, W. D. Ranney and C. G. Rosenberry.

Tom Cat Henry Has His Little Nip

He favors the above method of "hitting the bottle." He takes it straight, too, nipple and all and gives every evidence that it is good to the last drop. The cat is owned by Marvin Allison of Lawrenceville, Ga. You will note that Henry keeps one eye on the photographer.

PORT IN A VOLCANO . . .
Only seven miles from Italy's mainland in the Bay of Naples lies one of the strangest island harbors in the world. Port d'Ischia, on the small, mountainous island of Ischia, occupies the crater of an extinct volcano!

Visitors to this picturesque little port reach it by steamer from Naples. Almost an inland lake, completely encircled by hills, it is hidden from view until the boat has passed through its narrow entrance.

Porto d'Ischia is one of the smaller craters of volcanic Monte Epomeo, main peak on the island. The last king of Naples ordered the crater dredged to accommodate shipping, the work being done by convicts in return for their liberty.
